Countries That Extend Passport Validity for an Additional Six Months After Expiration

Visitors traveling to the U.S. are required to be in possession of passports that are valid for six months beyond the period of their intended stay in the U.S. Citizens of the countries listed below are exempt from the six-month rule and need only have a passport valid for their intended period of stay.

This update supersedes the list found inside the 2018-2019 Carrier Information Guides, and any previous Carrier Liaison Program (CLP) bulletins.
